Crippled and Many Years an Invalid.

To whom these presents shall come: Greeting,
About fourteen years since at this place of residence I used with an accident which caused an injury to my spine and pelvic bone which resulted in the loss of the use of my legs and arms, and the shortening of the waist and displacement of internal organs, and shortening of almost two inches of one leg between the knee and hip. In addition to the outward appearance of my body as above described, I have been afflicted with a severe attack of a tripple from the effect of which I suffered greatly with my lungs and heart, and when in May 1901 I came to and began treatment with Dr. J. F. Cook my condition was about as follows:— Could perform no manual labor, could not sleep to pick anything from the floor, could get about the house only with difficulty, and getting up stairs was next to impossible. Could use my limbs only with difficulty and one of them was much wasted. My nervous system was badly wrecked, and I could not sleep at night and heart, and in many ways suffered almost constant and insupportable suffering. In short I was as much as a cripple, and I was treated over a period of years by many physicians to no effective purpose.
My personal appearance at this time is shown in the back of this certificate. My weight then was about 150 lbs. and I was much more than half as high as I am now. I have been free of my limbs since I got up stairs, and I look after the other with perfect ease. My heart is strengthening. Can sleep to the door with ease. Can get about and do the pretty much as I please. And everything other well people can do. My appetite is splendid, sleep sound and am absolutely free from pain.
Having read Dr. Cook's family for nearly a year I have seen much of the effect of his treatment upon others, and can truly and cheerfully recommend his doctor and his medical skill to all in any way afflicted.
The doctor's treatment in this case was wholly confined to his Holistic medicine, constitutionally administered. No resort to the use of knife, mechanical appliances or other method of treatment being employed.
Lillian Rosebaum has lived in this vicinity about nine years.
We, the undersigned, are personally acquainted with the above said and cheerfully subscribe to the truth of the foregoing statement.
N. ROSENBAUM, Father.
RUSAN H. ROSENBAUM, Mother.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 24th day of Aug, 1901.

SOUTH AFRICAN WAR

Woman Forced Buller to Retire.

King Edward at First Stoutly Defended the General.

But Lord Roberts Threatened to Resign if He Was Not Removed.

New York, Oct. 24.—Interesting details concerning the enforced retirement of Sir Redvers Buller are given in a dispatch from London to the Herald. It is an open secret that what is known as "petticoat influence" has been far too strong at the War Office ever since the Duke of Cambridge resigned and the present Commander-in-Chief has not escaped it.

There are many people who are inclined to applaud the speech of H. C. Richards the night before last at Northampton who declared that if Lord Roberts would leave Bazar openings to Lady Roberts and take the staff selections and War Office reforms into his own hands there might be great reform at the War Office. It is doubtful if King Edward will ever have to face a more painful dilemma than the one he encountered when Mr. Brodric and Lord Roberts had an audience with him at Marlborough House, said a member of the King's household.

So it became an accepted conclusion that no matter what the papers might say the King would stand by his former friend, even to the extent of conferring a peerage, as a mark of personal friendship. Some leakage of this opinion found their way to the public press and were transmitted to the War Office.

It is said that ever since General Buller refused to correct his Spionkop dispatch he has been subjected to the bitter hostility of Lady Roberts, who used every effort to force her husband to demand his recall.

When the news reached Balmoral House, of General Buller's Westminster speech, everybody in the household suspended judgment until some sign was apparent how the king regarded it.

Ever since General Buller's departure from Waterloo, for the war, when the king, then Prince of Wales, gave the cue to the popular opinion of the ex-commander-in-chief, with his parting salute: "Good old Buller," he has thus been spoken of.

Ever since his return to England it was known that the king had not changed his opinion of his former "bon comrade." The day after the Westminster speech, it became bruited among the household, that the king still held his faith in the bluff general, and regarded his oratorical outburst as merely a military explosion in the face of bitter goading.

Within the last few days her antipathy has found fresh vent owing to his Westminster speech. It is said she induced "Bobs" to go to the War Office and demand of Mr. Brodric that he issue an order for General Buller's resignation. Such an order was issued but old Buller replied with a flat refusal to resign. Then Lord Roberts and Mr. Brodric put their heads together and waited for the instant of the King's return to London to lay before His Majesty the alternative of Buller's dismissal or their resignation.

It was by no means a pleasant interview. At first the King refused point blank to countenance any such drastic proceeding. He defended Buller right and left and declared that such a provocation as anonymous attacks was sufficient warrant for such an explosion on the part of the bluff old soldier, but Lord Roberts and Mr. Brodric were equally stubborn.

Lord Roberts threatened to resign instantaneously unless a royal mandate were issued for Buller's despatchment. To this Mr. Brodric also added his intention to release the seals of the War Office. The latter threat would not have weighed for a moment with the King but "Bobs" popularity is a different matter. His Majesty used every effort to induce the Commander-in-Chief to reconsider his determination. Only when he finally discovered that this was out of the question was the royal consent reluctantly given to the order for General Buller's dismissal.

SCHLEY WAS THERE

Engaged With Four Spanish Ships.

Captain Clarke of the Oregon Gives His Testimony.

Immense Interest in the Closing Scenes of the Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Every seat in the large room where the Schley court of inquiry is being held was occupied today. The announcement of the approaching close of the case, and the possibility that Admiral Schley would take the witness stand during the day, had the effect of increasing public interest.

After Rear Admiral Barker and Capt. Borden, of the Marines, had testified to incidents of the Cuban campaign, Capt. Chas. E. Clark, whose record on the Oregon was the boast of every American citizen, was called as the third witness of the day. Capt. Clark described the chase after the Spanish ships, July 3. He said he was afraid at one time the Oregon would have to sustain the concentrated fire of several ships.

Just then the smoke lifted and he discovered the Brooklyn. "She was well forward our port beam," he said, "and broadside to the enemy's fleet. The two vessels retained their relative positions approximately to the end of the battle. The Brooklyn was steaming nearly straight ahead, I should judge, and engaging all the Spanish ships.

The Oregon was endeavoring to come to close action with the sternmost one, and when she was driven out, we kept on after the next one.

"Can you tell with how many ships the Brooklyn was engaged when the smoke lifted and you saw her on her westward course," Clark was asked.

"She must have been engaged with four," was the answer.

BUFFALO FAIR FINANCES

Will Not Pay Out as an Investment.

BUFFALO, Oct. 24.—The Pan-American Exposition Company has $904,000 cash to its credit to be devoted to paying an additional proportion of the first mortgage bonds. Already $1,250,000 of the $2,500,000 first mortgage bonds has been paid. The amount now due on the first mortgage bonds is $146,000.

The exposition has nine days more. If it should clear $50,000 a day for the nine days it would have sufficient cash to make the last payment on the first mortgage bonds. If it fails to average a net profit of $50,000 a day there may be a default on a part of the first mortgage bonds payment.

The holders of the second mortgage bonds seem to agree that no payment will be made to them. The stockholders, of course, understand that no payment will be made to them.

The unpaid contractors are clamoring to get the 70 per cent still due them on their claims, but thus far they have been unsuccessful. The second mortgage bonds total $600,000. The stock represents $2,100,000. The amount of contractors claims is not stated exactly at present.

GLADSTONE MADE AMENDS

LONDON, Oct. 24.—John Morley, unveiling a statue of Gladstone at Manchester yesterday, said in the course of an eloquent eulogy: "Gladstone misread the civil war in common with nearly all the leading statesmen of the time. Let us remember, however, that no man was more ready to admit how grievously he had erred and that he made the noblest reparation ever made for rash words by healing deed. In the Geneva arbitration, while the Alabama arbitration inaugurated the first substantial precedent for the substitution of reason for force."

PRESIDENT VALENTINE VERY ILL

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 24.—John J. Valentine, President of the Wells Fargo Express Company is lying dangerously ill at his residence in East Oakland. Ever since last July he has been suffering from acute heart trouble but not until a month ago was his condition considered serious.

A short trip to the Springs at Paso Robles did not do the capitalist any good and on October 14 he returned to his home and has been confined to his bed ever since.

THE BOER WAR NOT YET OVER

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Winston Churchill, M. P. in the course of a speech at Leicester, last night, which is much commented on today, declare that the war in South Africa has become "an unmitigated nuisance."

The danger is greater today than it was two years ago," Mr. Churchill declared, "and the means of meeting the strains are being seriously reduced."

He urges the government to "relieve Lord Kitchener of the heavy detail work and prepare for a new campaign with a refreshed army and a definite plan."

FIRST TROPICAL FRUITS

Under Free Trade With Isl- and of Porto Rico

Oranges Come in When the California Crop is Gone.

New York, Oct. 24.—Much interest is being taken in local fruit circles at the moment in the receipt of oranges from Porto Rico and in the prospects of an increase in the trade in Porto Rico product in comparison with the fruit grown in California and Florida, says the Journal of Commerce.

During the past fortnight between 4000 and 5000 packages of oranges have arrived in this market from Porto Rico. These represent the first shipments of the season and are, moreover the first shipments reaching this country since the establishment of free trade relations between the United States and Porto Rico. They have nearly all been sold at auction at prices below the normal figures for California fruit early in the season.

The question of the price the Porto Rican fruit may command has not yet had a fair demonstration. In that the receipts thus far have been particularly inferior in quality, especially so far as the packing of the fruit is concerned. The latter bears every indication that the shippers are new at orange business.

However, in a few weeks the fruit will be arriving it is believed in excellent condition. The Porto Rican product is essentially an early product, maturing much sooner than either the Florida or California circle. In fact the last of the early season's California product is about here and arriving to the extent of a car or two a day.

OCEAN FREIGHTS LOWER

Falling Corn Exports May Advance Wheat Prices.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Numerous floating grain elevators loomed above the stores of the Atlantic basin back of the Governor's Island, and 124 berthed steamers, many of them tossing idly at their anchors, attest an unprecedented dullness in ocean freights, says the World. It is due to the shortage of the corn crop out west. Corn exports are 30,000,000 bushels behind the same date of 1900.

"Corn makes ocean freights, not wheat," explained Broker Dunham, of Dunham and Moore, freight brokers and forwarding agents. Experts estimate 100,000 tons of ocean cargo space tied up in New York, about the same amount in Philadelphia and smaller amounts in Boston, Baltimore, Norfolk and New Orleans. Coal that was formerly carried to Europe for $3.75 and $4 a ton is now carried for $2. General cargo from the Gulf to Denmark that brought $4.50 and $5 a ton is now being taken for $3.12. Ocean freights have fallen off 20 per cent at least.

Benett, Wash & Company of this city, have chartered out 170 steamers for their clients many of which are doing nothing at all. Even the big transatlantic steamers have difficulty in securing cargoes.

Fire Loss a Million.
CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—J. Standish, secretary of the Hammond Packing Co., whose plant was practically destroyed by fire at Hammond Ind., last night, put the loss today at $600,000. He declared inability to fill the orders for a few weeks, would bring the total loss up to $1,000,000.

Arkansas Town Burned.
LAMAR, Ark., Oct. 24.—Nearly all business houses of this town destroyed by fire last night, loss $150,000.

DISTRESS IN WEST PRUSSIA

Austria and Hungary are Alarmed

Over Depression in Agriculture and Industries.

Germany Driving Out all Foreign Insurance Companies

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—President Von Gosseler of the Province of West Prussia, has called a convention in Danzig October 28 to discuss remedies for industrial and agricultural distress.

A deputation from 600 unemployed persons has visited the Burgomaster of Danzig to urge him to begin municipal work for the relief of the unemployed.

The Hamburg Metal workers have petitioned the Senate of Hamburg to provide employment through relief works.

VIENNA, Oct. 24.—At a meeting of committees, representing Austrian agricultural and manufacturing interests, held in Vienna last night, to discuss measures for coping with the transoceanic competition, the following resolution was adopted:

"In view of the commercial policy of the United States and the example of Germany, a complete reorganization of the Austro-Hungarian customs tariff is advisable in order to afford adequate and permanent protection to industry and agriculture, to facilitate the conclusion of favorable commercial conventions and to promote exportation.

Following the example of the United States, facilities offered by the customs tariff for concessions, should be turned to advantage, in the case of every individual state. Treaties should contain no clause granting the most favored nation treatment in a general and unrestricted sense; but clauses should be inserted providing for reciprocity and equivalent advantages."

A further resolution advocated the conclusion of commercial treaties for long periods where they could give sufficient protection to home production, but recommended treaties for short periods with the United States and the Argentine Republic, urging in conclusion that the countries of Central Europe should "unite for a common defense against transoceanic competition."

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The English insurance companies are astonished at the recent report of United States Consul General Mason at Berlin to the State Department at Washington expressing the opinion that under the new imperial insurance law of May 12 last, for the regulation and control of insurance companies doing business in the German empire, any well organized, adequately capitalized and competently managed foreign insurance or security company will be able to secure a concession to do business in Germany.

Meetings have been held in London by English companies who are contemplating withdrawing from Germany. The managers of these concerns informed a representative of the Associated Press today that they are in exactly the same as the Americans and that they regard "the alleged concessions made by Germany in response to the United States protest as practically worthless and as being so stringent as to almost prohibitive."

They point to the fact that only one American company is doing business in Germany. They also said that the time limit in which foreign companies should elect to accept or reject Germany's terms expired this month, but they understood it had been extended to 1902 on account of the refusal of practically all the English and American firms to accept them.

In the meanwhile the English firm hope to secure the British Government's assistance in alleviating what they consider to be the continued unfairness of Germany's regulations governing foreign insurance companies. The English managers are apparently under the belief that in this effort they would have the support of a similar endeavor in the United States on the part of the American concern.

CHICAGO TAX DECISION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 24.—The supreme court today affirmed a decision of the lower court in the Chicago teachers tax case, in which they insisted that the capital stock of corporations should be assessed. This ruling will add over $100,000,000 of taxable property to the assessment roll of Chicago.

In effect the award of the writ of mandamus against the state board of equalization to compel it to assess the capital stock, including franchises of twenty Chicago corporations at a fair cash value, which above their tangible property, is alleged to aggregate $35 million dollars.

TWELVE MONTH'S SLOWER

Loses Contracts for Locomotives.

Even With a Ten Per Cent. Preference in Their Favor.

Great Saving in Explosives for the Rand Mines Has Effected.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Daily Mail publishes an interview with Charles Bitterman Elliott, general manager of the Cape Government Railways, on the result of his recent visit to the United States, "American industrial competition is serious," says Mr. Elliott, "as it has only just begun. Splendid new machinery and new methods are everywhere in preparations and work will be undertaken on such a scale as to make successful competition difficult. My strong advice to the heads of British firms is to visit the United States and see for themselves. What greatly surprised me was the extent of the use of the automatic machinery, nothing like which is to be seen in England."

After describing various large works, he visited in the United States, he goes on to refer to the use of American locomotives on the Cape Railways, explaining that it was only urgent hurry which led to their employment, as the British firms are asked for eighteen months, and the Americans but six, to complete the orders.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail, referred to attacks made in London, on Mr. Elliott, for giving orders to the United States, and says he has made inquiries of the Cape Minister of Railways, and the managers of the companies concerned, and is in a position to exonerate Mr. Elliott.

"No orders were placed anywhere," the correspondent asserts, "except with the sanction of the Cape Government. Mr. Elliott's mission being simply one of inquiry and advice. The Cape Government gave a preference to the extent of 10 per cent in price over foreigners for all goods manufactured within the British Empire, and only the British inability to complete within the time limit led to the giving of some orders to the United States."

New York, Oct. 24.—The first move in the direction of a settlement of the Transvaal dynamite question in an offer of the Transvaal Dynamite Company, which is a German concern, to supply explosives at 30 shillings per case under the figures ruling before the war, has just been made, says the Tribune's London correspondent. On the basis of the rate of consumption of the explosive by the Rand mines prior to the outbreak of hostilities this would mean a saving of about $2,250,000 a year.

Two men arrested yesterday on suspicion of being connected with the Chicago postoffice robbery, were taken from a New York Central freight train. Each of the prisoners carried a telescope and between them they had half a dozen or more suits of old clothes, which looked like remnants from a rummage sale. The men gave their names as William Curran, of Trenton, N. J., aged 37 years, and William Porter, of Worcester, Mass. Between them they are said to have had a kit of burglar tools and a quantity of postage stamps, including due and special delivery stamps.

THIS YEARS PRUNES

New Crop Almost Certain to Bring Good Figures.

SALEM, Calif., Oct. 24.—Local packers estimate the amount of pruned crop of 1900 now on hand at 1000 car loads. The estimated crop of Santa Clara County prunes this year is 40,000,000 pounds, which together with the estimated 20,000,000 pounds of the Italian variety produced by Oregon, Washington and Idaho, constitute the stock to be disposed of. So far this season neither commercial packer nor California Fruit Association has made any particular effort to dispose of this season's crop. All feel inclined to get last year's crop out of the way first. The growers are showing signs of uneasiness, but the fruit Association is confident of virtually finding a market for the new crop at a good figure. Prices remain the same with few buyers.
